Bowie Knife Versus the Arkansas Toothpick

Among the things I unearthed on my desk after recovering from a stomach ulcer operation in Dallas was a copy of the Jackson (Miss.) Clarion-Ledger dated June 22, 1971. From Tom Ethridge's Mississippi Notebook column I gather there is an argument over whether the Bowie Knife and the Arkansas Toothpick are related.

Henry N. Eason, Jr., P.O. Box 3013, Jackson, Miss., 39207, wrote the columnist as follows:

"Your comments on Arkansas' claim to (originating) the Bowie knife were certainly interesting. It was my understanding that the Bowie Knife and the Arkansas Toothpick were two completely different articles.

"The knife used by Jim Bowie was extremely heavy and was used more like a saber.

"The Arkansas Toothpick was any knife that was long and slim and sharp on both edges. It was a little on the light side for head-lopping but according to my limited researches it was the proper implement to use if you wanted to eviscerate your neighbor.

"Surely there must be a cutlery expert among your many readers who can give us an authoritative answer."

There is an authority, Raymond W. Thorp, who wrote the documented book "Bowie Knife," published in 1948 by University of New Mexico Press. Adjoining this column today we are reprinting an illustration from that book showing four types of knives used by frontiersmen in the Southwest, ranging from the Bowie Knife at the top to the Arkansas Toothpick at the bottom. One glance will tell you that Mr. Eason is correct in stating the knives are entirely different.

Also, you will note that the top knife corresponds with the Bowie Knife in The Star's name-plate, a tribute to James Black, the Philadelphia silversmith transplanted to the Southwestern frontier, who made the original Bowie Knife for Col. James Bowie in his smithy at Washington, former county seat of Hempstead. The smithy was reconstructed some years back by the Pioneer Washington Foundation.

The Arkansas Toothpick reference in Raymond Thorp's quotes one of his sources as writing:

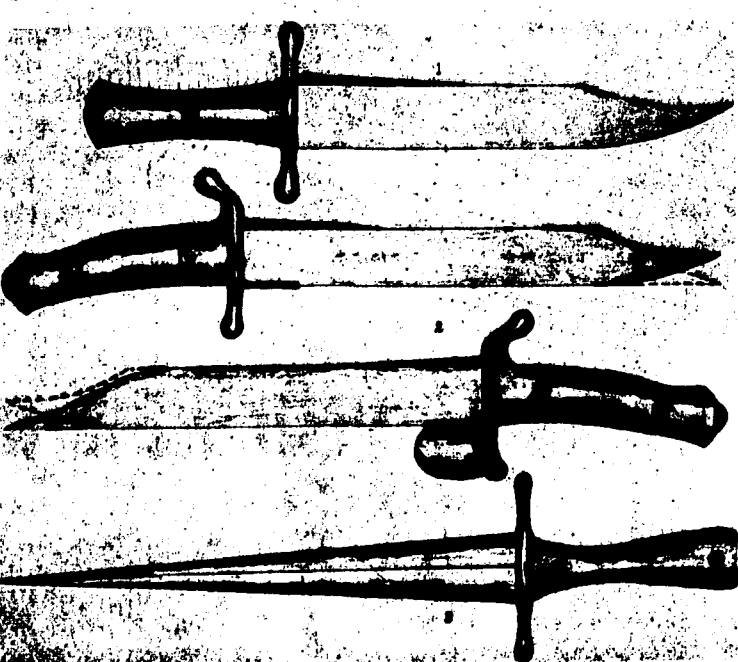

"I knew a knife-fighter from Mississippi who used an Arkansas Toothpick. It had a 16-inch blade, double-edged and tapered to a 'toothpick' point. He used it as a throwing knife; said he had killed two men with it."

The copy of the Jackson Clarion-Ledger was sent me from Vicksburg, Miss., by Kenneth W. Poindexter, of Hope Community TV, Inc.

Number Two: (Obverse and reverse) Fighting knife with thumb guard, made with varied points as illustrated. The straight blade in bottom illustration represents, as nearly as descriptions can convey, the type of knife used in the Sandbar Battle. Number Three: Arkansas Tooth Pick, usually worn in holster at back of neck, from which position it was drawn or thrown.

Ceasefire Over, Bombings Resumed

SAIGON, (AP) — B52 bombers rushed from the United States to Guam have joined the massive air campaign in Indochina, and tonight the air armada resumed operations in South Vietnam after a 24-hour cease-fire for Tet.

Informed sources said the B52s ordered across the Pacific to meet the threat of a big Communist offensive flew their first missions from Guam Monday. The U.S. Command refused to confirm or deny this, saying only that the air operations "could include B52s from Guam."

The U.S. Command announced that 251 strikes were flown against targets in South Vietnam in the 12 hours before the Tet cease-fire began Monday night, plus scores more in Laos and Cambodia. The strikes inside Vietnam included 242 by fighter-bombers and nine by B52s.

Most of the attacks were on enemy staging areas and infiltration routes from the western end of the demilitarized zone south along the Laotian border through the A Shau valley.

During the truce, American air operations shifted to Laos and Cambodia, because the cease-fire applied only to Vietnam. Informants said after the pilots were switched back to

British Call Top Labor Leaders in

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath called in British's top union leader today in an effort to prevent a total power blackout by the end of the month.

Up to 20 million jobs were at stake in the worst industrial crisis since the general strike 46 years ago.

Already 800,000 workers have been laid off as a result of massive power cuts forced by the national coal miners' strike, now in its sixth week.

Heath was meeting with Victor Feather, leader of the giant Trades Union Congress, in the hope that he would persuade the 200,000 strikers to allow coal into the generating plants.

The government warned that even the present, curtailed supply of electric power could be maintained for only two more weeks. After that, Trade and Industry Minister John Davies told the House of Commons, "there will be neither electricity for industry nor in the home at all."

Even such essential services as hospitals, sewage plants and railroads could be without power unless the miners stop picketing the generating plants and return to work, Davies said as members of the Labor party put up the usual opposition shouts of "Resign."

Most industries were cut back Monday to a three-day week because of the power cuts which have plunged millions of homes into icy gloom and darkened streets in every city and village.

Heath's Conservative majority in Commons assured him approval of the government's handling of the crisis. By a vote of 315 to 276, or a majority of 39, the House rejected a Labor motion of no confidence.

More than $2 billion was wiped off stock prices Monday in the London Stock Market. Many small companies working on narrow profit margins were reported facing bankruptcy. "A few of these smaller firms have already indicated that they do not intend to reopen," said a spokesman of the Engineering and Employers Association.

"As long as the power restrictions continue, the number of firms going out of business will grow."

23 miles of Saigon.

The U.S. Command also announced the phaseout of another 4,500 American troops from Vietnam, the biggest single cut in months. They included 45 Army units, most of them small support companies and detachments; two Air Force squadrons, one transport and the other psychological warfare; and five helicopter units, or about 80 aircraft of all types ranging from troop carriers to heavy-duty CH-47 Chinooks.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported 30 enemy violations of the allied cease-fire, most of them small attacks and all but two of them directed against the South Vietnamese.

The South Vietnamese reported eight of their troops killed and 21 wounded and said enemy losses were not known. The U.S. Command said the two attacks on American forces did not cause any U.S. casualties, but one enemy was killed.

Two Indicted on Drug Charge

MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — Two Arkansas men were indicted by a federal grand jury Monday afternoon on charges of drug violations.

The grand jury charged William Andrew Fulkerson III, 21, of Paragould, Ark., and Earnest William Thacker, 24, of Jonesboro, with four counts of possession with intent to distribute 407 grams of LSD, six grams of marijuana and one gram of cocaine.

The two were arrested Jan. 26 at Memphis International Airport.

Memphis police said the drugs found on the men would sell for $5.8 million on the retail market.

Seek Foiled Hijacker

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — Harrison officials are searching for a man who attempted to hijack a Sunnyland Stage passenger bus Monday.

Police Chief Al Reid of Harrison said a man pulled a knife on Curt Daley, driver of the bus, just prior to reaching the bus depot here and told Daley to drive about 20 miles to Jasper, which is not on the regular run.

Daley refused, Reid said, and drove to the depot at Harrison, where the man fled.

Soviet UN Worker Charged by FBI

NEW YORK (AP) — FBI agents have arrested a Russian employee of the United Nations on charges of espionage in connection with the solicitation of classified documents on the Navy's new F14A fighter plane.

Valery I. Markelov, 32, was seized Monday night in a Long Island diner after receiving certain documents from a Grumman Aerospace Corp. engineer, the FBI said. The engineer was working with the FBI.

Markelov, a translator at the U.N. Secretariat, was held overnight in the federal house of detention for arraignment today before U.S. Magistrate Max Schiffman.

A spokesman at the Soviet Mission to the United Nations declined comment on the arrest, saying the mission would have to study the situation. He would not say whether Markelov was a Soviet citizen.

Grumman is in the developmental phase of building 12 prototypes of the twin-jet, carrier-based F14A. Details of the armament and performance characteristics of the swing-wing plane are classified.

A spokesman at the company's headquarters in Bethpage on Long Island declined to comment on the arrest.

The FBI said investigation of Markelov began in the fall of 1970 after the Grumman engineer, who was not identified, reported to authorities that the Russian had made his acquaintance.

In the arrest announcement in Washington, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Markelov had 11 meetings with the engineer at various restaurants in the New York area.

He "persistently requested confidential information" on the F14A and supplied the engineer a portable copying machine and a 35mm camera to reproduce the material, the FBI said.

Markelov, who was born in Russia, arrived in the United States in November 1967, and lives with his wife and daughter in New York City.

Maximum penalty for conviction of espionage is 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine, the FBI said.

Soviet Nuclear Power Mushrooms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said today Soviet nuclear power is growing faster than he had forecast. He said a U.S. speedup in submarine-missile development signals America's will to keep a strong retaliatory punch.

Other defense officials said the recent decision to push the undersea long-range missile system (ULMS) also indicates to Russia it should not stall on agreeing to limit nuclear weapons, including submarine-launched missiles.

An initial U.S.-Soviet nuclear arms-limitation agreement is expected by May, but the Russians are reported opposed to including submarine-launched weapons until they overtake an American lead in this department.

"The Soviet buildup is showing even greater momentum than I projected in last year's defense report," Laird told Congress today in his annual review.

"It would be diplomatically and politically unacceptable for the United States to allow the Soviets to achieve a large numerical superiority in both land-based and sea-based strategic missiles."

Laird reported that by mid-year the Russians will have 1,550 land-based intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBMs) in firing position compared with 1,054 for the United States. The Soviet navy will have 500 submarine-mounted missiles compared with 656 aboard U.S. subs, with the gap closing swiftly.

The U.S. bomber force will continue its downward slide from 565 planes to 581 while the Soviet heavy-bomber fleet remains at about 140. But a fast new Russian bomber has been tested and could be a threat in a few years, Laird said.

Demo Candidates Attack Each Other

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Several Democratic presidential candidates have taken time out from attacks on the Nixon administration to spar with each other as the first state primary tests of their vote-getting strength draw near.

Mayor Sam Yorty says his Democratic opponents are surrounded by an army of image-builders, and Sen. George McGovern says Mayor John V. Lindsay is "substituting media for issues and money for people."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey denies he's being soft on Gov. George C. Wallace, whose attitudes, Humphrey says, tend toward racism. The Minnesota senator also took an indirect jab Monday at Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, who was hit by a more straight-forward punch, from Yorty.

Former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, who ran as a peace candidate in 1968 and is in the race again, told an audience in Chicago that most candidates from both parties have fallen in line with the stance he took four years ago.

China Missile Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird told Congress today Communist Chinese missiles threaten most of south and east Asia and a substantial part of the Soviet Union.

"We believe that the Chinese could begin deployment of intercontinental ballistic missiles with a range of 3,000 nautical miles or more, capable of striking all or most of the U.S.S.R., by 1975," Laird said in a statement to the Senate Armed Services Committee.

He said the two Chinese satellites launched in the last 18 months and a dozen nuclear tests since 1964 "indicate a fairly high degree of sophistication in both missile and warhead development."

He said the two satellites probably were orbited by a multistage vehicle based on their intermediate-range ballistic missile. Therefore, he said, they should be considered as part of China's progressive development of an ICBM.

"We have not as yet been able to confirm the initial flight testing of an ICBM," Laird said in his annual report to Congress.

He said it cannot be predicted when China will have an ICBM capable of striking the United States, but estimates are that deployment could not take place before 1975 with 10 to 20 missiles available by mid-1976.

Bumpers Leaves Well Enough Alone on Vote

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers decided Monday to leave well enough alone as far as election dates are concerned, and the Arkansas Senate quickly approved without dissent a bill to set primaries on May 30 and June 13.

Even though the House passed and sent to the Senate a bill with different dates, the upper chamber's measure had the governor's blessing and Sen. Harold King of Sheridan, the sponsor, said everyone was agreeable on his bill.

Bumpers had indicated through an aide Friday that the dates might be changed because some legislators didn't like the fact that May 30 is the day after the Memorial Day holiday.

Apparently opposition disintegrated over the weekend, although two announced candidates—Ted Boswell and Jack Coleman—said the earlier dates would aid in the re-election of incumbents.

Boswell is a candidate for the U. S. Senate. Coleman is running for the U. S. House in the 4th District.

Archie Schaffer III, an aide to Bumpers, said Monday that the administration decided to proceed with the May 30-June 13 dates because "those were the dates we wanted."

The House bill dates are June 13 and June 27, as originally proposed by Bumpers.

Both houses got tied up Monday in debate of proposed changes in drug control laws, raising a question whether the special session could reach final adjournment today as lawmakers hoped. Leaders said adjournment this afternoon was still possible.

The Senate revised and sent to the House a drug bill originally submitted by the Bumpers administration. The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill that Bumpers may now prefer over his own.

Bradley D. Jesson, a legislative aide to Bumpers, said the governor would push for final passage of both bills so that he would have a choice as to which to sign. Other gubernatorial aides indicated the Senate-revised bill may not be acceptable to Bumpers.

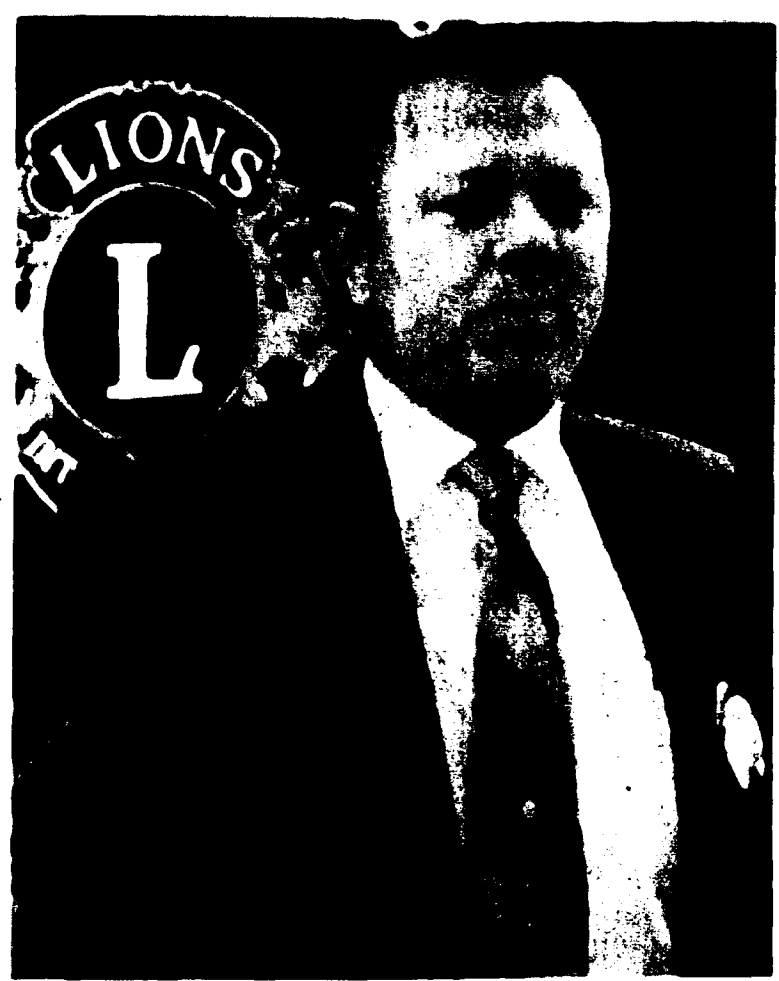

The Senate bill generally reduced the amount of drugs a person may possess before he is charged with a felony, rather than a misdemeanor, for possession.

The quantities set as the limits for misdemeanor charges: 10 milligrams of heroin and one-sixteenth ounce (or six cigarettes) or marijuana.

"You're probably going to fill the prisons with college kids," said Sen. Ben Allen, who said the students usually buy marijuana in one-ounce quantities.

Discusses Tech School

CHARLES EASLEY

In observance of National Vocational Education Week Program Chairman Royce Pendergrass introduced Charles Easley, Supervisor of Trade and Industrial Education, State Department of Education Little Rock, who spoke to the Hope Lions Monday at the Town and Country.

Mr. Easley told of the progress and work of the Vocational Education Department noting that the State's first Vo-Tech School was established in 1959. There are now twelve of these schools over the state.

The group was told that the Vo-Tech schools were set up to teach skills to students who did not want to go on to college or those who were not qualified for higher formal education. He stated that not over fifteen per cent of jobs nationwide needed college graduates to handle the job.

In this day of mechanization, the need for completely unskilled labor is lessening, and even with a growing population ten or twenty years from now the number of unskilled jobs will probably be the same as today.

At the high school level, a new program was explained which gave instruction in five or six

Thinks Farm Production Costs to Hit New High

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says farm production costs will rise to a record level this year, but only by 3.5 per cent gain in 1971.

The rate slowdown was indicated Monday in a farm cost situation report issued by the Economic Research Service.

"Price restraints have been imposed on many inputs of non-farm origin under Phase II of the program to reduce inflation, prospects are for more acreage to be held out of production, and larger feed supplies will hold feed prices down," the report said.

Gains in production costs and lower prices for some commodities were major factors in holding 1971 net farm income to $15.7 billion, the same level as in 1970, officials say.

But for 1972, the department has predicted net farm income will rise $1.5 billion to $2.0 billion, which would mean as much as $17.7 billion in farm net this year, a record high.

Reviewing 1971 costs, the report said purchased feed, seed, pesticides, fertilizer, insurance premiums and Social Security taxes rose more sharply than average. In contrast, outlays for feeder and replacement livestock, hired labor, petroleum, interest on borrowed money and property taxes increased less.

Spending by farmers in 1971 for feeder or replacement livestock increased about five per cent last year, down from the usual annual increase of around six per cent. That resulted mostly from fewer animals being bought in 1971 because of higher feed prices.

Greater supplies of feed in 1972 at lower prices are resulting in greater demand for feeder and replacement animals," the report said. "Accordingly, prices of most of these animals will stay high."

Seed prices rose more than usual last year, mainly because of higher seed corn. Larger supplies of corn seed are expected to stabilize those costs in 1972, the report said.

Mills to Visit New Hampshire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wilbur Mills, Congress premier tax expert, visits New Hampshire today where a vigorous write-in campaign is under way for the Arkansas Democratic presidential possibility.

Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, said he expects no difficulty in keeping his sessions with the Republican-controlled New Hampshire Legislature separate from the drive mounted to pile up a respectable vote for him in the Democratic presidential primary March 7.

Mills is meeting with the legislature's House Ways and Means and Senate Finance committees in joint session. He plans to discuss federal aid to states and cities—President Nixon's revenue-sharing plan, which he opposes, and his own substitute.

Although the Mills plan contains incentives for states to rely on their own income taxes, he expects to stay out of the current controversy as to whether New Hampshire should institute such a tax.

Also on Mills's schedule is a brief appearance before the whole legislature. Then, after a luncheon with supporters, he is scheduled to return to Washington.

The well-financed, professionally-run, write-in campaign in New Hampshire was well under way before Mills stepped up his long-unacknowledged candidacy for the Democratic nomination by saying publicly he will be looking for delegates at the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach next July.

While he says he has no time to campaign in primaries, he is entered in Wisconsin, Nebraska and Florida, and preliminary steps have been taken in New Mexico.

In New Hampshire, where Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of

Opposed to Busing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says he is opposed to busing to achieve racial balance in schools but is opposed also to a constitutional amendment to prohibit busing.

"If the school busing is purely to achieve a racial balance with no educational reason attached to it, I would have to say yes, I am opposed to it," Agnew said in an interview taped for broadcast Tuesday on NBC's Today show.

Fresh Storms Over Nation

The Associated Press
Fresh winter storms brought rain and snow to the Midwest and Pacific Northwest today and a new arctic air mass sent temperatures downward across the Northern Plains.

Light snow blanketed much of the northern Midwest, while showers dampened the southern portions. Fog combined with the precipitation to hamper travel in many areas.

More rain fell on already soaked coastal portions of the Northwest, turning to snow in the higher elevations.

The National Weather Service said up to 14 feet of snow has piled up so far this winter in some of the higher Western mountain areas, such as Stampede Pass in Washington.

The return of arctic air to the Northern Plains triggered cold wave warnings for portions of North Dakota and Minnesota.

Mild and pleasant weather was the rule in the southern half of the nation, where flows of Gulf and Pacific air have kept temperatures generally above the seasonal level.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 6 below zero at Fargo, N.D., to 72 at Key West, Fla.

Remember the story about the man who quit his job of sorting oranges because of too many decisions?

A bridge player has to make decisions also but a wise declarer can frequently eliminate them.

Take today's hand as an example. South holds back his ace of hearts until the third lead of the suit. He discards a club from dummy. Then if he is mentally lazy he leads a club and is de-

NO CHILDREN TO ADOPT?

Dear Rap:

I write to "Rap" because so many unwed mothers are in your age bracket, Sue. Maybe you can help me understand the reasoning behind this trend toward keeping the child. Meanwhile, here's an open letter to pregnant "singles":

Today our caseworker called to tell us the chances of there being another adoptable child for us are nil. We were lucky to find our darling son only a few months after we learned we can't have children naturally. He is now 16 months old and needs a brother or sister. Our longing for another baby gets stronger constantly. But with abortions, the pill, and unmarrieds keeping their babies, adoptions are almost impossible—and I believe the main reason for this is the last.

I'm not going to say this never lighted to see that East holds the ace. After all, if West held the ace South would be down one trick automatically.

South isn't so happy when mean old East leads a spade. South can count eight top tricks, a successful spade finesse or a 3-3 diamond break will give him his ninth. Which should he try?

If South is a mathematician he knows that the finesse is 50-50 and a suit breaks 3-3 only 36 per cent of the time. He tries the spade finesse and is down two. If he is afraid of going down two he refuses the spade finesse and this time the sun shines for him and he makes his contract.

An alert declarer never has to make this decision. He sees that it will stare him in the face if he plays first but notes that he can well afford to test the diamonds before knocking out the ace of clubs. So he runs the diamonds successfully and has his nine tricks without any worry about the king of spades.

"Rubber Check"

"Your check bounced."
When Harry heard this news from the neighborhood garage man, his first reaction was embarrassment. But embarrassment turned to dismay when the garage man started criminal proceedings against him. The charge: passing a worthless check.

In court, Harry explained to the judge:

"It was all an innocent mistake. Another man's check, which I had deposited earlier, had bounced in the meantime. That is why my account happened to be short."

"The fact remains," replied the garage man, "that he did give me a check that was no good. That itself is illegal."

But the court tossed out the charge against Harry. The court said he lacked the criminal intent that is an essential ingredient of the crime.

As a rule, giving a check that bounces is not a crime if the person honestly expected it to go through. But he must have a reasonable expectation, not just a pious hope. Consider this case:

An oil promoter, trying to sell stock to an investor, showed the deal was almost sewed up. Counting on some quick cash, he wrote a large check to cover various expenses. But the deal fell through and the check bounced.

Was this a criminal offense? A court said yes, because the promoter had no solid basis for expecting his check to be good. "Mere hope," said the court, was not enough.

Suppose the person expects just the opposite: that his check, although good when he wrote it, will be bad by the time it gets to the bank. Thus:

A man wrote a check for $25 while he still had $100 in his account. But he knew perfectly well that he had already written several other checks which would wipe out the $100.

A court ruled afterward that he was indeed guilty of an offense. The court said what mattered was not the situation at the time he wrote the check but the situation at the "moment of truth"—when the check was presented at the bank for payment.

Personality Discussed

ANITA LIVINGSTON

"Personality Through Speech" was discussed by Anita Livingston, Customer Instruction Supervisor with Southwestern Bell Telephone, at the Hope B & PW Club dinner meeting at the Diamond Thursday, February 10. "A pleasant and attractive voice is vital to a good telephone personality, but it is also important to avoid sloppy, slovenly speech habits that are a detriment even to the best of voices," she said and added, "One should strive for a well-modulated voice and clear enunciation."

She quoted from a book, "No Hands But Yours" by Marilyn Vandivere, a former Miss America, and showed a film, "The Voice of Your Business," which gave emphasis to her message. The speaker is the daughter of the Rev. A.D. Livingston, a former pastor in Hope, and she was accompanied by Carla Soliman, also of Little Rock.

A Valentine theme was used in the decorations on the tables and for several games that were played. Opal Daniel won the door prize, a box of Valentine candy, and Mickey Becherer was first in a Valentine work game. A bride's package of gifts from the County Clerk's office went to each person.

President Dee McMurrough welcomed Mickey Becherer and Jewel McCain as new members and guests that included Nancy Sinyard, Carol Haltom and Paula Poindexter of the Nike Club, and Verlaine Jones. Hostesses were Velora Bright, Pat House, Sue Sparks and Dora Fenwick.

SMU-TCU May Decide the Title; Hogs Play Ags

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Southern Methodist can hand Texas Christian its first Southwest Conference home loss in two years tonight in Fort Worth, the Mustangs could go a long way in giving Bob Prewitt his first title as a head coach.

Prewitt, an assistant under highly successful Doc Hayes for 18 years, is in his fifth year as the head man for the Mustangs.

When Prewitt stepped into the fold, the Mustangs were at a low ebb talent-wise. They haven't won a championship since 1967. Under Prewitt and recruiting whiz Mike Pinham the Mustangs have made a slow but steady climb back to the top. SMU leads the SWC with a 7-1 record. Texas A&M, TCU, the defending champion, Texas Tech and Texas are jammed into a second-place tie with 5-3 marks.

"We're pleased to be where we are but we know four teams still have a shot at us...We'll have to stay on the boards and stop the last real tek to beat TCU," Prewitt says.

In other games tonight, Arkansas is at Texas A&M, Rice is at Texas Tech, and Baylor is at Texas.

Prewitt has his best balanced team since he took over from Hayes.

"The coaching isn't any better...the people are," Prewitt says. "I don't think you ever outcoached somebody. It's the people...it's the kids who execute under the pressure out there on the basketball court."

SMU has won seven consecutive games since Prewitt established what is labeled a "three-guard" offense.

He has Zach Thiel, Larry Dellzell and Bobby Rollings in the lineup at the same time. None is over 6-feet-2. But they shoot well, play great defense, and pass well.

SMU has averaged only eight turnovers per contest in the last seven games while the opposition has thrown the ball away an average of 14 times.

The smaller Mustangs have been outrebounded an average of four rebounds per contest during the stretch but have shot 46.4 per cent from the field compared to 41.7 per cent for the opponents.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock Parkview's stay at the top of The Associated Press high school basketball poll didn't last long.

The Patriots were named No. 1 in the poll released last Tuesday. That night they were upset 66-65 by North Little Rock.

Little Rock Central, ranked No. 1 every week but last week, regained the top spot. The Tiggers received 12 of the 14 first place votes cast by the panel of sportswriters and sportscasters.

Race Commission Ruling Overturned

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A state Racing Commission order that Emprise Corp. of Buffalo, N.Y., divest itself of all but 10 per cent of its interest in Southland Racing Corp. was overturned Monday.

Circuit Court Judge Warren E. Wood said the commission's order was "nothing short of restraint of trade and is oppressive, punitive in nature, unreasonable, arbitrary and capricious."

Wood said the order, issued last July and effective Jan. 14, 1972, "places Emprise, should it have elected to comply, at the mercy of the commission."

Emprise owns about 46 per cent of the Southland stock. Southland operates a greyhound racing track in West Memphis.

The Racing Commission refused earlier this month to grant dates for Southland's 1972 season, citing Emprise's failure to comply with the order.

"In the first place," Wood said, "the commission has taken the position that Emprise is undesirable to a certain extent but would be desirable to a lesser extent."

Wood said the commission order could be summarized as: "Emprise Corp., you have been found to be undesirable; we will accept your undesirability if you will divest yourself of some of your stock by disposing of same to persons acceptable to us; in the event this procedure is followed, we will forgive and forget your undesirability...."

Ouachita Clings to Top Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ouachita Baptist University is still No. 1 in Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball after Monday night's games, but barely.

Ouachita managed to defeat Harding 75-65 Monday night, after leading by a narrow 31-30 margin at the half.

Second place Southern State also was a winner, defeating UA Monticello 82-67. It was Southern State's 11th straight victory.

Ouachita is 14-2 in conference play and Southern State is 13-3. Terry Hankton of Arkansas Tech was the high AIC scorer Monday night. He racked up 31 points as Tech defeated College of the Ozarks 105-64.

In other AIC action Henderson defeated State College 76-62 and Hendrix won over Arkansas College 81-69.

Bright Star Upsets Waldo at Blevins

Unheralded Bright Star slammed back the favored Waldo Bulldogs last night in the opening round of Area 13-B District boys tournament at Blevins by a 75 to 74 score.

In other opening round games Emmet beat Spring Hill 64 to 37; Garland defeated Fouke 74-68; Okolona downed Bodcaw 75 to 40 and Oak Grove licked Lincoln High of Washington 83 to 57.

Tuesday's games will pair Cale and Laneburg at 4 p.m.; Saratoga and Genoa Central at 5:15 p.m.; Village takes on McNeil at 6:30; Blevins vs Taylor at 8 p.m. and Spring Hill meets Oak Grove at 9:15 p.m.

Leading most of the way Waldo had a 10 point lead with over four minutes left. Then Bright Star's Dunlap, Tyrie and Kelly started hitting to bring them from behind. Dunlap hit two free tosses to give Bright Star the game.

Emmet had no trouble in downing Spring Hill with four players hitting in double figures.

76ers Lose to Rockets

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —

"We played a very poor game," was the diagnosis by coach Jack Ramsey after his Philadelphia 76ers lost to the thing of a folk hero on the Charlottesville campus and across the state this winter.

He has averaged 22.7 points a game in leading the long-trodden Cavaliers to an 18-1 record. The team has become the first in state history to make The Associated Press top 10 and is now ranked No. 6.

Besides his college career, Parkhill had another reason for remaining amateur — the summer Olympics.

"Ever since I can remember, I have wanted to represent my country in the Olympic games," he said, adding that on Saturday he received an invitation from American coach Hank Iba to attend the tryouts, which begin June 12.

Home Town Honors Olympic Girls

NORTHBROOK, Ill. (AP) —

A final salvo of fireworks blasted against the sky and the show was over for Dianne Holm and Anne Henning, America's Olympic darlings.

Their feats in Japan recorded to the tune of four medals including a gold award for each girl, they returned home Monday night to a hometown welcome showered by fireworks and roses.

A crowd of possibly 6,000, representing Northbrook's "Speed Skating Capitol of the World," was on hand at Meadowhill Park where the two Olympic champions first started to learn to speed skate.

Earlier, the girls were met by Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago upon their arrival at O'Hare International Airport.

But their flight, delayed by a snowstorm in Japan and mechanical difficulties along the way, forced a change in plans.

Originally they were to have had their first reception at home and then gone on to Chicago for a ticker-tape greeting along LaSalle St.

But the speed skating champions arrived nearly 10 hours later than scheduled and had to settle for the airport reception at Chicago before returning to Meadowhill Park which was jammed with teen-agers and youngsters.

The crowd cheered wildly for Dianne and Anne although officials took pains to introduce the entire Northbrook Olympic group including Coach Ed Rudolph.

Anne, 16, wore her blazing red Olympic cape. Dianne, 20, who will be off to Europe Tuesday for more competition, had on tan slacks and a brown leather jacket.

"We're happy, but we're tired and thank you," they said.

Houston Rockets, 130-116, Monday night for their seventh defeat in a row.

"That was not a pridelful performance," he continued to mourn as the game between two also-rans in the National Basketball Association receded in his memory. "My premise in this business is that the talent is not that widely dispersed ... You're not that far from making it if you play hard and play together."

"My job is to make the team play together. I haven't been able to," he said.

Houston coach Tex Winner, whose team's 24-37 record shows that he knows what it's like to lose, observed: "It was a long night for the home crowd. There'll be good nights."

Only 4,166 spectators were there to watch as the 76ers fell further and further behind in the second half after staying almost abreast of the Rockets through the first half.

The people who enjoyed the contest were the five Rockets who scored 19 points or more: Elvin Hayes with 28 for game high, Calvin Murphy and Stu Lantz with 22 each, and Greg Smith and Rudy Tomjanovich with 19 apiece.

Billy Cunningham led the 76ers with 25 points, and Bob Rule had 21.

It was the only game played in the NBA Monday.

Stars Rout Floridians

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — It had all the makings of an out-and-out rout, and even the reserves scored big as the Utah Stars flattened the Floridians from Miami Beach 134-112 in American Basketball Association action Monday night.

Utah's Willie Wise led the Salt Palace fun with 29 points, while reserve Merv Jackson pumped in 22 points.

The game was never in doubt as the Stars took an early lead and trotted to the dressing room with a 66-49 halftime advantage. Florida was in the game only until midway through the second quarter.

The early Floridian effort was mostly that of Willie Long, who wound up with 22 points, and Mack Calvin, who scored 19.

Utah had only a seven-point lead in the second period until Zemo Beaty, Ron Boone and Glen Combs combined for a scoring blitz.

In the second half the Stars opened up a 21-point lead and the reserves took over.

Former Star Manny Leaks, who was traded to Florida less than a month ago, contributed 10 points before he fouled out.

Other leading scorers for Utah included Combs with 16 and Beaty with 14. Warren Jabali scored 16 and Ron Franz chipped in with 17 points for the Floridians.

The game was the only one on the ABA docket Monday night.

Upset in Billiards

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Luther "Wimpy" Lassiter of Elizabeth City, N.C., upset Jack Breit of Houston 150-103 Monday night in action of World Pocket Billiards championship, dropping Breit into second place.

On other matches, Joe Balsis, Minorsville, Pa., whipped Jim Marino of Culver City, Calif., 150-44; Irving Crane, Rochester, N.Y., edged Dan Diliberto of Miami 150-145; Sean Walsh of Phoenix, Ariz., clobbered Kazuo Fujima, Japan, 150-97; Joe Russo, Trenton, N.J., took Richie Florence, Torrance, Calif., 150-106, and Gene Nagy, New York City, defeated Dan Gartner, Newark, N.J., 150-112.

Both Balsis and Craone won, giving them 13-1 records. Lou Butera of North Hollywood, Calif., who had a bye, also is 13-1. But Breit's defeat dropped him to 12-2.

Lassiter is 10-5 in the 20-man round robin which concludes Saturday. First prize is $5,000.

Tournament.

When the invitations go out this year on March 1, you can probably bet the rent money that McGuire's going the other way.

The second-ranked Warriors, who didn't have a big center—they do now—to compete in the more demanding NCAA derby, currently are the nation's top independent—and a good bet to grab one of the precious at-large berths.

That leaves only eight more free passes for the rest of the country along with the automatic entries of 16 conference champions.

Teams with fancy records will be hoping for a telephone call at 9:30 a.m., EST, on March 1 from Tom Scott, the chairman of the University Basketball Tournament Committee.

Teams with less gaudy accomplishments will hope that the NIT calls an hour later, the predetermined grace time for the New York tournament.

The policy of the NCAA committee, according to public relations spokesman Tom Hansen, is "to select the best nine teams available, regardless of their geographical location."

"It's based solely on sheer strength, the schedule that the

English Dancer Heads List

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — English Dancer, shouldering 113 pounds, heads a field of 13 4-year-olds and upward in today's $8,500 feature purse at Oaklawn Park.

Included in the field are Dan Lasiter's entries of Sea O. Joe, 114 pounds, and Royal Ruffin, 113 pounds, and a G. Hudson entry of Signor Valinti, 113 pounds, and Defector, 113 pounds.

Others selected to go the 5½ furlongs are Bopdaveille, 112 pounds; Can-He Scott, 113 pounds; Proven Flight, 114 pounds; King's Demand, 116 pounds; Jovial John, 112 pounds; Clem's Star, 111 pounds; Red Charnier, 115 pounds, and Windy Maker, 113 pounds.

Cornish Sister won her first victory of the season Monday in the $10,000 feature race by beating Chhillipin by two lengths.

Ridden by John L. Lively, the filly scooted over the track in 1:11 1-5 and paid mutuels of $3.80, $2.80 and $2.40.

Chhillipin, with Robert Kottenko aboard, paid $9.80 and $3.80, and Kathryn's Doll, ridden by Danny Whited, returned $2.60 for show. A crowd of 9,245 wagered $772,809.

Christmas Comes Early

NEW YORK (AP) — Christmas came in February for Jerry Colangelo, general manager of the Phoenix Suns.

Colangelo received two of his longest-standing wishes Monday when the Board of Governors of the National Basketball Association voted to switch Phoenix from the Midwest Division to the Pacific Division of the NBA, and also changed the requirements for qualifying for the post-season playoffs, effective for the 1972-3 season.

Houston will shift from the Pacific to the Midwest Division to replace Phoenix.

Under the new playoff system, the four division winners will qualify for the playoffs, as they do now. But the four remaining playoff berths, instead of automatically going to the four division runners-up, will instead go to the two remaining teams in each conference—regardless of division—with the best win-loss percentage.

Thus, it would be possible for three teams from one division to make the playoffs, and only one—the division champion—from another. For example, as things currently stand in the Eastern Conference, the two leaders would qualify, and the next two teams with the best records—New York and Philadelphia—would also qualify, even though both are in the Atlantic Division.

Last year Phoenix, despite a 48-34 record, did not qualify for the playoffs, finishing third in the Midwest Division behind Milwaukee and Chicago.

In other actions taken by the Board of Governors, NBA Commissioner J. Walter Kennedy explained that the league would accept applications from potential hardship cases for its 1972 draft up to one week following the last post-season college tournament. This would make the deadline March 25 instead of Dec. 1, as previously set.

Also, the NBA college draft will be held via telephone April 10, the 1972-73 season will open Oct. 10 and close March 25, undergraduates other than hardship cases will not be draft eligible, and a record $725,000 will be distributed in the 1972 playoffs.

Work Pays Off for Stolle

TORONTO (AP) — Long hours and hard work have paid off so far for Fred Stolle in the $50,000 World Championship Tennis tournament here.

Stolle, the 33-year-old Australian veteran, pulled off the first upset of the tournament by ousting fourth-seeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa 6-0, 6-3 in a morning match.

Twelve hours later he and countryman Ken Rosewall were putting the finishing strokes on a 6-7, 6-2, 6-4 first-round doubles victory over Brian Fairlie of New Zealand and Ismail El Shafai of Egypt.

So much for the long hours. The hard work started Sunday night a few hours after Stolle arrived here by plane from Philadelphia.

He waited until Sunday's draw was finished then went out on the indoor court for a 90-minute "hit" with Terry Addison, another Australian player on the tour.

"That's the last thing I expected—to come in during the afternoon and find out I was expected to play at 10 the next morning," Stolle said after beating Drysdale.

Other seeded players managed first-round victories although third-seeded Tom Okker of The Netherlands and seventh-seeded Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., needed victories in the best-of-12 points tiebreaker games that decide sets that are tied 6-6.

Okker started his march toward the singles final that pays $10,000 to the winner and $5,000 to the loser with a 6-4, 6-7, 7-6 victory over Nikki Pilic of Yugoslavia.

Riessen forced Australian Ray Ruffels into backhand errors in winning 6-4, 7-6.

Eighth-seeded John Newcombe was extended to three sets before he got past El Shafai 4-6, 6-1, 6-1.

Tony Roche of Australia ousted Tom Leonard of Los An-

Girl Goalie Causes Stir

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Rhonda Martin is quite amused by the stir her goal-tending has caused in the intramural hockey league at the University of Minnesota.

"I think it's fun but everybody thinks it's abnormal," said the 22-year-old senior biology major from Blue Earth, Minn. "But I don't think it's abnormal. I don't feel anything different playing hockey than I would doing something else."

Miss Martin, a pretty blonde, got interested in the sport as a spectator and won the two games she played in last year. She has played two games this season, winning one by allowing two goals and losing the other with a five-goal performance.

"I really love to watch hockey," she said. "When you like something, you should get into it. I asked for a chance to play and they let me."

"I don't think a person should have to scream women's lib everytime she wants to do something different," Miss Martin said. "I am not trying to prove something when I play hockey. I do it because I want to do it. I enjoy sports and I enjoy men and I do not think a couple of little old technical traditions should prevent me from doing what I want."

Miss Martin said she wants to teach next fall and if she can't get a job in Minnesota, she'll try for a position in Australia. "I like a lot of open spaces."

As for hockey, she says "I would like to pursue it because I like it."

Miss Martin is not worried about the injury hazard of stopping pucks that can reach a velocity of more than 100 miles per hour.

She wears the regular goalie equipment of leg pads, gloves, chest pad and mask.

"You can't worry about getting hurt," she smiled. "Sure, I get hit by shots. My bruises are finally disappearing now after a two-week rest."

Social Programs Mark the Special Legislative Meet

BY Mack McLarty
State Representative
Hempstead County

The special session, now ending its first (and probably only full) week, has been an outstanding example of sincere effort and cooperation.

Governor Bumpers and his staff are to be commended for their excellent preparation. Not only have the bills been well-written and well-organized, but the administration has made every effort to give full explanation of their workings.

Similarly, the legislators came to Little Rock prepared for hard work and a thorough examination of each proposal.

Long hours and intense study have marked the session. As a result, most of the 70 bills have been passed. The only significant legislation remaining deals with a revision of the drug control laws and the question of the AM&N - U of A merger.

If the special session can be "typed" or "classified," I would evaluate it as one which dealt with bold new programs for major social reform and progress.

Social and Rehabilitation Legislation

The "reason" for calling the session was to enable the State Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services to receive $26 million in additional federal funds for a state expenditure of less than $4 million. You might ask, "So now we have $26 million. What will be done with it?"

It is a well-known fact that state services which aid the mentally retarded, the handicapped, the blind, the mentally ill and the emotionally disturbed are all administered from facilities located primarily in or around the Little Rock area.

The programs which will utilize the new money are designed to reach the 96 per cent of the people afflicted with these problems who are not now being served by state institutions. In essence, these programs allow us to go out into communities and give real assistance to these underprivileged citizens. There are two important advantages to

Texarkana Vo-Tech And Other Bills

House Bill 8 provided $100,000 in state funds so that Texarkana could acquire $300,000 in federal funds from a model cities program to build a vo-tech school in that city.

I worked for passage of this bill as it offers many advantages to Southwest Arkansas. We all know how important our Red River Vo-Tech School is to Hempstead County. The addition of a similar school in Texarkana can do nothing but strengthen the supply of skilled technicians for new industry in our area. This is significant progress for the Southwest, making our area consistently more attractive to good, clean industry, as well as up-grading the quality of the professions.

Another important group of legislation was House Bills 6, 7 and 10. These programs are the Rural Medical Practice Act and the Family Practice Program at the University of Arkansas Medical Center.

One will allow medical students to borrow money ($5,000 per year, interest free) in return for signed agreements that they will return, upon graduation, to our communities of less than 6,000 population. If the student stays for two years, the debt is erased. It is evident that this is a most important piece of legislation, especially for many Southwest Arkansas counties. I believe this will herald a return of good medical care to our rural areas, where many who need attention are our elderly citizens. Remember that 45 per cent of the doctors in Arkansas are located in Pulaski (Little Rock) and Sebastian (Fort Smith) counties. This leaves 55 per cent of the doctors to serve 80 per cent of the population living in 96 per cent of the area of the state.

The other bill dealt with legislation to enable the Med Center to make Family Practice a full department—equal in stature to such departments as Pediatrics, General Surgery, Internal Medicine, etc.

Family Practice is an area which the medical profession has neglected in the past two decades. So many breakthroughs in medicine caused almost a total emphasis in specialization. It is easy to see why Family Practice was neglected. The problem, of course, is that the vast majority of people who need medical attention do not need a specialist. The Family Practice Bill, should help make more family doctors available for the citizens of our state.

New Officers Named

At a luncheon meeting of the Hope Rotary Club on Friday, February 11, in the Town and Country Dr. Sam Strong, President, was in charge. New officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Bob Roberts; Vice-President, Bob Gullett; Secretary, B. N. Holt; Treasurer, Webb Laseter; Board of Directors, Cecil Bittle and Floyd Leverett.

"There are many things about our town about which we should feel proud," President Strong said. He pointed out some of them and encouraged the Rotarians to think of Hope's attributes while continuing to strive to improve its faults.

Rotarian Bill Tolleson, who is President of the Hope School Board, demonstrated the advanced instruction local elementary school pupils are receiving by reading the questions set forth on a science test for 5th grade students. The questions would have been difficult for most of the club members, but the local student had scored 92 on the test.

Dr. Imron Bruce, President of Southern State College, was a visiting Rotarian, and he invited the club members to visit the campus in Magnolia, especially for the dedication of the new Nursing Education Department in the near future.

Re-Organization

I feel that it is appropriate, at this point, to remark on re-organization of state government. This was the number-one accomplishment of the 1971 session. Although there was some fear of too much centralization of power within re-organization, this was offset by the reality that government would be operated in a more business-like and professional manner. By initiating adequate controls and restraints, we could subdue that fear. I have always felt that re-organization—or the combining of authorities under closer control—would be a large step toward removing the petty side of politics from the administration of government.

This special session offered concrete evidence that re-organization—though slow in changing—is now proving to be a success. The very existence of HB2 and the social ramifications of its passage, is due in large measure to the re-organization of state government.

A Mystery to Western Medicine

Dear Dr. Lamb — Would you please comment on the Chinese practice of acupuncture as reported by James Reston of the New York Times in connection with his emergency appendectomy during his recent visit to Peking? I am sure many others would also like to hear the medical profession's evaluation of this form of anesthesia.

Dear Reader — Now you have really put me on the spot. The truth of the matter is, by our concepts of physiology, the locations of nerves in the body, how nerve signals are transmitted for pain and how nerves are blocked, there just isn't any good explanation as to why acupuncture should work, if in fact it does.

I can't totally discount the fact that it might be useful in certain instances, since we are always learning new things about the body, and even new ways in which things are relayed by the nervous system. There are many feedback mechanisms from the skin itself that cause all sorts of problems. A good example is letting the skin be chilled or cooled and ending up with a stiff neck.

There is another aspect of all this and that is the question of hypnosis or suggestibility. The western mind is not as susceptible to hypnosis and cannot produce self-induced trances. In fact, I believe it is a perfectly fair statement to make that the vast majority of western physicians have little or no knowledge of hypnosis. As a side comment, there is probably a reason for this, one being that Freud was opposed to hypnosis and the reason was because of his own problems. He attempted hypnosis and at the end of the hypnotic session his female patient became amorous and threw her arms around him. This so frightened Freud that he advised against the use of hypnosis.

Ever since then hypnosis has not really been explored adequately by psychiatrists or other disciplines in medicine in the western world.

It is true, however, that hypnosis can be used in some individuals to perform major surgery, including radical removal of the breast.

Nixon Discusses China With a French Expert

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — After opening wider the door for trade with China, President Nixon has received a two-stage briefing from a French intellectual who knows the Chinese leaders Nixon will meet next week.

An 80-minute meeting with France's Andre Malraux and a private White House dinner for him Monday night came as spokesmen sketched a rough itinerary for Nixon's week-long China visit.

Included are an open-ended series of meetings with Communist leaders, a round of four banquets in three cities and sightseeing trips to the Great Wall and other Chinese shrines.

Nixon, who leaves Thursday on the first leg of his historic journey, sought the meeting with Malraux to get the Frenchman's impressions of Mao Tse-tung, Chou En-lai and other Communist officials as part of his last-minute cramming for the trip.

A few hours before greeting the French author and former Culture minister, the White House announced Nixon was taking a series of steps to place China on the same trade footing as the Soviet Union and most other eastern European Communist countries.

Basically, Nixon's actions allow the export to China of such U.S. products as locomotives, construction equipment, industrial chemicals, internal combustion engines and rolling mills.

These will now be added to the list of products which can be shipped to China through commercial channels by holders of a broad, general license—as opposed to special licenses which require case-by-case decisions.

Ziegler, outlining a "very rough itinerary" for Nixon's China trip, said the President will use Chinese-built limousines while there and will fly from Peking to Hangchow in an airplane supplied by the Chinese government—the first time he will have used non-U.S. aircraft during his extensive travels.

The President, Mrs. Nixon and the official party of 13 White House and State Department advisers will fly Thursday from Washington to Hawaii, where they will spend two nights and one day before heading on to Guam for an overnight stop.

From Guam, Nixon will fly to Shanghai, arriving there about 9 a.m. China time Monday, Feb. 21. After leaving the plane for a brief rest, he will fly on to Peking, arriving at 11:30 a.m. Monday (10:30 p.m. EST Sunday). There he will be officially greeted by Chinese officials—probably including Premier Chou En-lai.

Author Claims Giant Dirigible Sabotaged

NEW YORK (AP) — The author of a book about the 1937 Hindenburg disaster says evidence in the archives of Germany and the United States proves—contrary to the official reports of both countries—that the giant dirigible was sabotaged by one of her crew.

Michael MacDonald Mooney details in his book, "The Hindenburg," to be published by Dodd-Meade Feb. 28, the final voyage of the Hindenburg which ended in flames at the mooring mast in Lakehurst, N.J., on May 6, 1937.

Of the 97 aboard, 35 persons, 22 of them crewmen, died in the disaster, and one ground crewman also was killed.

Although the possibility of sabotage was investigated by a Department of Commerce commission in Washington and in Berlin by a committee named by Air Minister Hermann Goering, the official reports in both instances blamed the fire on natural causes.

Mooney said at a news conference Monday that his interviews and studies led him to conclude that the Hindenburg's hydrogen was set ablaze by a phosphate "bomb" with a timing device.

Mooney says the device was planted by a rigger, Eric Spehl, an ardent Catholic who hated Hitler and wanted to destroy the Hindenburg as a symbol of Nazi might and German technology.

He said Spehl, aided by a left-wing girl friend, planned the explosion and timed it to occur after he and most of the others aboard had left the Hindenburg.

But the scheduled 6 p.m. docking of the dirigible was delayed by a thunderstorm, Mooney says, the device went off as the Hindenburg was tying up at the mooring mast.

Spehl was among those

No Candy for Mrs. Irving

NEW YORK (AP) — There were no flowers or candy for Edith Irving on Valentine's Day but her writer husband didn't have to go home empty handed.

"I'll give her a copy of Time magazine," quipped Clifford Irving, as he passed through his hotel lobby with a copy of the issue, which calls his autobiography of Howard Hughes a hoax.

His mailbox, however, yielded a box of Swiss chocolates sent anonymously for the children, and a friend told him Edith had had a happy, productive day completing two water color gouaches.

Author James Sherwood, a friend from Irving's days in California more than a decade ago, said Mrs. Irving told him, "I'm tired of making headlines, I want to make something for myself."

Sherwood said he brought the Irvings to the Chelsea Hotel, known for its artists and writer clientele on Jan. 28. Among themselves they refer to that day as "Helga Hughes Day"—the day it became known that Mrs. Irving was the Helga Hughes who deposited the $650,000 McGraw-Hill checks in a Swiss bank.

"That was the worst and blackest days of several people's lives," said Sherwood, who reads with disbelief the news items describing her as shrewd and calculating and takes the news of her husband's alleged affair with blonde folk singer Nina van Pallandt as any woman would.

Baez Visits Marianna

MARIANNA, Ark. (AP) — Folk singer Joan Baez toured Marianna and Lee County Monday afternoon and apologized to some residents for the showiness of her news media entourage.

Miss Baez expressed surprise that the news media accompanied her on part of her tour. She told newsmen she hoped that a late afternoon news conference would have taken care of their needs.

At one home she spoke with Nettie Williams and her husband, Lawrence. Eight of the Williams' 10 children were at home.

Miss Baez apologized to Mrs. Williams for the showiness of the gathering.

Mrs. Williams, who has been unemployed since she was laid off from her job at a Marianna cafe, told her: "I'm glad you stopped by—you're welcome anytime."

At another stop, unaccompanied by newsmen, Miss Baez sang to a 40-year-old woman who was sick in bed.

She said she sang "Swing Low" to the woman because she knew the woman would be unable to attend a benefit concert she is planning for Marianna and Lee County.

Miss Baez later told newsmen that two families lived in the small shack and that as she started to sing the small children began to dance shyly around her and then joined in the song.

Miss Baez toured the area to get a first-hand look at conditions there in preparation for her concert.

"The overwhelming thing is to see how some people have to live after you've been raised in good surroundings," she said. "Many people are in an absolute state of poverty. They have overwhelming pride and an

Meat Imports May Be Eased

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council is considering a proposal to ease meat import quotas as a means of trimming a sharp increase in meat prices.

Donald Rumsfeld, the council's executive director, told a news conference the issue of meat prices is before the council, but he refused to say whether price controls on meat or other raw farm products were being considered.

Easing import quotas to spur importation of foreign meat is "among the more likely possibilities," Rumsfeld said.

Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz and meat producers' organizations strongly oppose raising present voluntary quotas that in 1970 held beef imports to about 6 per cent of U.S. consumption.

overwhelming kind of beauty."

While discussing her impressions with newsmen, Miss Baez said, "We have to remain blind to keep from being agonized" by what is wrong with the world.

She told newsmen at the news conference that she had discussed a possible concert date in March with officials of the Mid-South Coliseum in Memphis.

An earlier date set for the coliseum was canceled because of a conflicting schedule.

She told newsmen Monday that she might have "jumped the gun on being paranoid" about the hush with the auditorium officials over a date.

Most of her concerts are benefits, she said. Miss Baez said her income from record sales provide her with sufficient funds.

"I don't need to make money any more from concerts," she said.

"It was a difficult thing for me to come here," she said. Miss Baez said she "hated being followed by the press and making 'chat-chat' and asking phony questions."

She said she did not want her visit to be construed as a publicity stunt.

Archie Displays 'Black Niece'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Carroll O'Connor, the actor who plays bigoted Archie Bunker on the "All in the Family" comedy television series, is introducing a 19-year-old black girl these days as "my niece."

"I have many black friends all over the world," O'Connor said in an interview Monday.

But when he introduces pretty Richelle Williams as his niece, he says with his Irish blue eyes twinkle, "most people think there must be somebody black in my family."

Since she was about 3, Richelle, whom O'Connor, 41, his wife and other friends call Ricky, has called him "Uncle Carroll." He has known her father, a New Jersey obstetrician and gynecologist—"one of my oldest and dearest friends"—and her mother since before she was born.

For several weeks last summer and fall Ricky and her mother lived at the O'Connors' home while considering his suggestion that she quit Howard University and try her wings as a Hollywood actress.

Richelle now has her own apartment but does her laundry once a week in the O'Connors' washing machine.

O'Connor introduced her to the talent agency that represents him—and now her. She's working as a stand-in and bit player in "Blacula," a black movie version of "Dracula."

PADDY CHAYEFSKY says he has turned to movie writing because Broadway is dead and TV doesn't want his scripts.

LEZLIE DALTON says that on her second tour with Bob Hope to Vietnam she saw signs of war grinding down.

SLAPPY WHITE makes it the Muskie-White ticket as the black comedian tosses his campaign stickers, buttons and quips into the political ring. He wants to be vice president. Move over, Mr. Agnew.

Frenchman Has First Day

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer
DEL RIO, Tex. (AP) —

French scientist Michel Siffre faces today the first full day of 20p during which he will be alone in a time vacuum, buried alive beneath millions of tons of Texas limestone rock.

Since he took off his watch and handed it to his wife, Nathalie, at the top of the cave shaft at 2:15 p.m. Monday, Siffre has no means of telling time.

He will remain cut off from the tyranny of clocks in a time rhythm set only by the waking, eating and sleeping needs of his body.

Aim of the experience is to show that men in space can adapt without difficulty to a 48-hour cycle of 36 hours activity and 12 hours sleep instead of the 24 hour cycle of 16 hours activity and 8 hours sleep which is customary.

Although Siffre had a couple of comrades with him for the first night to help with the installation of his camp, the last of them was to leave by evening. From then on, he will be utterly alone.

Sophisticated electronic equipment in a tent laboratory atop the mountain will monitor his health and bodily reactions.

Frozen food will be lowered to him by teammates when he is sleeping. His only contact with the surface will be daily telephone calls, during each of which he will give his estimate of the date and hour to be checked against the calendar.

Medical and biological tests will occupy much of his uneven days. He will keep a diary and prepare notes for a book. For his leisure, he has a phonograph and records and a shelf of carefully chosen books, and lots of time to meditate on future experiments.

"I'll never be bored," the 33-year-old scientist said minutes before he descended into Midnight Cave 50 miles north of here.

"I may get moments of depression, yes, that it possible, but I won't be bored," he said.

Asked if he was a religious man who believed in God, Siffre said: "Not in the strict way. But I believe there is something called God. I think rarely of God now, but hours of confinement and isolation can change a man."

Questioned about the possible danger from rockfalls, Siffre said: "In a cave you always have some danger. For example, you could break a leg. But this is an easy cave."

As his friends called, "goodbye Michel. See you in September," Siffre turned and pledged: "I will not fail. I will succeed."

The Gulf of Mexico has one small tide a day.

TV Personalities Returning

By JERRY BUCK
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After a disastrous encounter with big-name movie stars, television is turning back to its own home-grown personalities for next season.

Among the series candidates there's hardly a film name that has topped a marquee in recent years.

But the names and faces will all be as familiar as last night's reruns. Virtually every star signed for a potential series has had his own series in the past. The season now ending was the year the movie stars fell on television—and burned out like meteors when the ratings came in.

Henry Fonda, Shirley MacLaine and Anthony Quinn were cancelled at midseason. James Garner in "Nichols" and Tony Curtis in "The Persuaders" are not likely to survive, and the Jimmy Stewart show is a question mark. Only Glenn Ford in "Cade's County" and Rock Hudson in the "McMillan and Wife" segment of "Mystery Movie" seem a sure bet for renewal.

James E. Duffy, president of the ABC Television Network, said, "If the story is there, if the concept is there, and if you have a major personality, you've got a lot going for you. But the day of signing a star first and then building a concept around him is gone."

Duffy said he believed that for next season all the networks deliberately went after stars identified with television.

Richard Boone, who was in "Medic," then "Have Gun, Will Travel," and headed his own repertory anthology series, is in "Heck." He plays a Western detective who uses scientific methods.

Fess Parker, television's Davy Crockett and Daniel Boone, is back in a movie pilot as "Elisha Cooper," a Northern California timber boss.

Leif Erickson, formerly of "High Chaparral," is in a show about a medical disaster team, "Med-Ex."

Jim Nabors and Don Knotts, who came out of "The Andy Griffith Show," and then had their own series are together again in "The Traveling Salesman."

Leonard Nimoy, the pointy-eared Mr. Spock of "Star Trek," is teamed with Susan Hampshire in "Baffled." Miss Hampshire is a two-time Emmy winner for "The Forsyte Saga" and "The First Churchills."

Mastermind Will Stay Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—The man who masterminded the details of Henry Kissinger's secret trips to Peking and Paris will be home minding the White House's central command post when President Nixon and Kissinger visit China.

He's Brig. Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., deputy national security adviser, or in the sports parlance Nixon likes, "Henry's first substitute."

Haig, 47, has been in on every twist and turn of Nixon's new China policy and had a round of advance planning with Chinese Premier Chou En-lai.

But with Nixon and Kissinger absent, someone has to keep an eye on developing world crises and the day-to-day work of the 100-member staff of the National Security Council.

Haig's the one. "I do not travel when Henry travels," he said in an interview.

Kissinger stayed home when Haig visited mainland China in January as head of a team planning Nixon's visit.

He said the Chinese he met were "extremely hospitable, extremely sensitive, very conscious of the events in our country" and he observed "a highly organized society, an impressive people obviously dedicated to improving their lot."

Of Nixon's visit, he said: "We don't expect diplomatic relations to be resumed. But we hope we could have something that would provide for communications between the two governments."

Haig, a West Point graduate who has spent much of his career in Asia and won the Distinguished Service Cross in a major Vietnam battle in 1967, plays the key role of traffic manager on the NSC staff.

He makes certain Nixon gets all possible background and options for decisions on foreign-policy issues and, like Kissinger, frequently receives a summons from Nixon to give his views on policy.

"Neither of us is shy or reticent to give that view," Haig said.

He described the NSC as a mechanism for tapping the best brains in the country to give the President "the best advice he could be given to enhance his ability to make the right decision."

John Scali, a presidential consultant on international affairs, said Haig set up all arrangements for Kissinger's flight from Pakistan to Peking last July and provided the cover story that Kissinger was ill when he dropped from sight.

Haig was in charge of getting Kissinger to his 12 secret peace-seeking missions in Paris, keeping in hour-by-hour touch with secret contacts, making certain plane switches went off on schedule and even negotiating for Kissinger to shake any followers by changing cars in the middle of Paris.

Haig occupies a cubbyhole office in the blue-carpeted Kissinger suite at the White House and it's hard to have a chat with him without Kissinger popping in the door with the terse summons: "Come."

Winter Wonderland

is an old American vacation favorite all dressed up for a new season. Open to winter visitors for the first time in its 100-year history, Yellowstone National Park offers familiar sights, below, Old Faithful, and some new wonders. "Ghost trees," left, form when geysers steam condenses on branches as ice crystals.

Geysers can have more than scenic value. The small variety make welcome hand-warmers, above. For those who make the winter trek—by 10-passenger snowcoach, two-passenger snowmobile and at some points by foot—the view can be better than ever. Right, Yellowstone Canyon with the ice-sheathed Falls in the distance.
